

Unattended Children's Policy

The Aurora Public Library District is committed to providing a welcoming and safe environment for all children who visit the library. Parents and caregivers are responsible for their children while their children are in the library, regardless of whether the parent or caregiver is in the library.

Children under the age of 8 must be directly supervised by a responsible caregiver age 14 or older and may not be left alone in the library. Parents and caregivers are responsible for ensuring that children abide by the library's Customer Behavior and Security Policy.

During storytimes and other programs, the parent or caregiver of a child under the age of 8 must remain in the library and return to the programming area by the end of the program. For some programs, parents/caregivers are required to attend with their children.

When the safety of a child is in doubt, library staff may contact the Aurora Police Department and/or other authorities to ensure the safety and well-being of the child. Children under the age of 14 may be unable to safeguard their own wellbeing if left alone at closing. Therefore, staff will wait with any unattended children and if a parent or caregiver does not arrive by 20 minutes after closing, staff will contact the Aurora Police Department.
